It can be difficult even in our own language, not to mention in a new language like English. For students who enroll in full-skilled courses either in high school or in colleges, writing is less taught in comparison with listening, speaking and reading. One of the reasons is that writing involves grammar. That is to say, with students who make grammatical errors very often, writing classes seem to be grammar classes for teachers. However, it has become a trend that most English tests require writing. For example, according to the policy in CYUT, future students may have a hard time graduating from the school without passing some English tests such as GEPT or TOEIC. Therefore, it is crucial to give students some training in this regard. Luckily, there are some skills which students can learn about writing. The first goal of this course is to teach students main ideas about English writing. After that, students will learn how to organize ideas, form paragraphs and polish sentences. Lots of practices will be offered in the class. This course is especially designed for students who aim to pass GEPT Intermediate.
