This course will introduce you to thinking-tools that will help you become more knowledgeable about the people and life style, mechanisms, development and goals of society. Taiwan is rapidly moving toward a knowledge-based rather than a manufacturing-based economy. In a few years Industrial Design must upgrade to provide creative services to a new society. It is the goal of this course to qualify you 1) to participate in those teams in industry, commerce, culture, society and politics where strategies for the future will be developed in coming years and 2), as a key-member in these teams, to express and implement the resulting innovative ideas on which Taiwan must base its future success.
